

Welcome to Second Ballyeaston

We hope you feel at home here in worship and following our service everyone is welcome for supper in the Brann Memorial Hall. Our thanks to our special guests this evening, including Councillor Noreen McClelland, the Deputy Mayor of Antrim and Newtownabbey, for supporting this service.

Our thanks to all who helped with our service this evening including the Clare Chorale, with accompanist Darren Day and conductor Sheelagh Greer.

Thanks also to Wilbert Garvin, our Organist; our speakers, readers and the collectors - John Carson, Simon Doherty, Ian Marshall, Heather Patterson, Elizabeth Warden, Peter Whiteside and Michael Woodside; Meta McIlwaine, Ashley Graham, and team for co-ordinating the event; and those who are providing or helping with the supper to which you are invited in the Brann Memorial Hall immediately after the Service.

Our offering this evening supports two projects:

Alzheimers Society Northern Ireland - a UK charity investing in research into dementia care, cause, cure and prevention. The Society has committed to spending £150 million on cutting-edge research over the next decade. Every project funded directly addresses the needs and concerns of people affected by dementia.

Journeys of Promise- A Presbyterian Youth and Children's Overseas programme which provides education and resources for young people and children who have suffered great trauma and have been displaced from their homes, partnering with the National Evangelical Synod of Syria and Lebanon (NESSL), and Open Doors.

Gift Aid envelopes are available. If you are a taxpayer you can increase the value of your gift by 25%, at no cost to yourself, by completing the gift aid form on the envelope in your pew.

This building is fitted with an induction loop system for the hearing impaired.

Hymn In all our fields, God speed the plough;
The ploughman guide and keep
Preparing by his labours now
At harvest time to reap.

God speed the plough in needy lands
Beyond our native shore.
Pour out rich blessings in their hands
And on their harvest floor.

God bless all ploughmen everywhere
Preparing fertile soil,
Who seek no fortune, but a fair
Reward for all their toil.

God speed the plough in every soul;
Prepare us for your seed
Then sow your word to make us whole,
In praise and service freed.
